

Now, more than ever before, CSR is the secret of success.

Organizations dedicated to the highest good - the three-fold mission of service to community, employees and planet - will continue to profit, especially in the most challenging times.

Inspirational! Jeff Salz breathes new life and fresh meaning into corporate social responsibility.

Matt Carey,
Chief Technology Officer, eBay Inc.

Forty years of world exploration, a Ph.D. in cultural anthropology and 20 years of working with 'C Suite' leadership at organizations such as Microsoft, eBay and Wal-Mart makes Jeff Salz one of today's unparalleled experts in understanding what makes cultures and organizations thrive.

Accompany cultural anthropologist, master story-teller and explorer Dr. Jeff Salz across the Himalayas and Andes on the ultimate quest: to discover the heart of CSR.

- Take your attendees on a multi-media adventure of music, video and breath-taking images for a journey of personal discovery.
- Remind your audience of the importance of trust, imagination, human goodness, and what it means to them at home and in their workplace.
- Learn what to do tomorrow as your attendees embark on the path to creating CSR in YOUR organization as an inspired team with a common goal.

Jeff's unique keynote provides a shared experience that unifies a group and inspires them to action professionally and personally.
