Kaaren,

Great to see your name again. Our paths crossed many years ago when I was working at Accenture. I was booking speakers for several conferences I sponsored. I have since left the firm and am now a writer and speaker myself. Maybe we should chat...

As far as Jeff... I'll sum up his speech in one word: fantastic! As the conference sponsor, I had to say a few words after Jeff's speech, and I was so choked-up that I could barely get a word out of my mouth. I have over the years seen many speakers and booked quite a few of them, and I can honestly say that Jeff is the most moving and powerful I have seen. Although his topic is not "business-related" per se, it is very easy to use his concepts of motivation and team work to improve productivity. In today's business environment, speakers like Jeff are exactly what is need to get people fired-up and working more efficiently. Knowing Accenture extremely well, I can highly recommend Jeff, as he is certain to be the highlight of their event.

Jeff, I copied you on this email because I thought it would be nice for you to know how I feel about your speeches. I will also contact some others who attended the conference and have them send their comments to Kaaren. I know they'll all feel the same as I do. I'll drop you a separate email bringing you up to date on everything including the TV show. I return to the states next week after my speech here in London, so maybe we can catch up in the good ol' US of A.

Kaaren, if you need anything else from me, just let me know.

Regards

Steve
