Dear Jeff,

Thank you for your wonderful presentations on October 6th and 7th. All of the feedback I've received – verbal acknowledgements as well as the formal written program evaluations – has been extremely positive. Tips you offered were consistently cited among the 3 things my colleagues found to be most valuable about the day. Our COO even told me he got back to work on Friday, immediately re-organized his office and is approaching each day with a totally renewed outlook!

I'm also happy to report that our northeast and southeast divisional offices were quite pleased with the "Breathing Space" video they viewed during their modified development programs last week. I've already gotten plenty of feedback indicating that not only did colleagues in each office enjoy the video and take away some useful tips, but they really appreciated the opportunity to "see" you the way those of us from the Newtown Square office did. Isn't it terrific when things work out so well?

Thanks again for your time and efforts. I enjoyed working with you.

With regards,

Kristin M. Kelly
