Chip,

Thank you so much for another outstanding program! You were exceptional when I had you present to my team when I was with Cingular Wireless, and your recent presentation was equally awesome! Since this was my second experience in "Getting Switched On" I knew you would have the effect we needed at our annual senior leadership conference.

Your positive, upbeat and humorous insight into finding the right work/ life balance was a much needed message and really hit home with our attendees and finishing with the energizing, "believe in your self" board break activity left everyone energized and inspired.

Your message was so effective and inspiring, one of our divisions immediately engaged you to present to their sales team and the feedback from that session was also tremendous. The sales employees there were just as excited and ready to take on new challenges as the senior leadership team.

Many thanks to you for sharing your insight with our employees and getting them "switched on"!
