Dear Bill,

Thank you so much for your presentation for the National Association of Catering Executives. You were brilliant. I have been booking speakers and presenters for a long time and you were far and away the best we've ever had. The Board is drafting a letter to refer you for our National Convention.

I personally received a great many compliments after your time with us. Your work and preparation and insights into our particular interests and concerns were features widely recognized and appreciated. Your humor made the entire evening great fun. Your message was so clear and so poignant. In the context of all of the laughter it struck just the right note. Working with you was a complete and utter pleasure.

Thank you, again. My best hopes are for your continued success.

Respectfully,

Toby Wessel

Dear Bill,

I'm still hearing glowing comments about your opening keynote at our WASLA & WRPA Joint Conference and Trade Show! Your absolutely unique combination of humor, insight, and experience was the perfect way to kick off our three-day event. People were referring back to your program throughout the entire conference!

You were really able to get "inside" our world, which made your message resonate all the more with our attendees. I saw lots of note-taking and heard lots of laughter. You delivered everything I could have asked for and more. And the standing ovation you received is a testament to how much the audience appreciated you!

Unfortunately, though, you've left me with the very real problem of "how do I top this in the future?" I may have to put you on speed dial!

Sincerely,

Derrick Eberle

Dear Mr. Stainton,

On behalf of the entire Medical Logistics community, I would like to personally thank you for making the 2010 Professional Post-graduate Short Course (PPSC) in Healthcare Logistics a very productive and memorable event. Your address to the plenary group on "The Five Best Decisions the Beatles Made" was motivating, entertaining, and will be remembered by the audience for a long time! I deeply appreciate your support of this conference and to the U.S. Army.

On a more personal note, thank you for the signed copy of your book. I read it on the flight back to D.C and it brought back good memories of the conference.

RECOMMENDATION OF BILL STANTON

Our organization had the distinct pleasure of having Bill Stainton as the keynote speaker at our Awards Banquet.

The time, effort and energy that Mr. Stainton invested in researching our organization were phenomenal! He took the time to get to know the culture of a fire department, talked with various members of our organization, and learned the history of our fire district. Mr. Stainton truly custom-tailored a presentation just for us that proved to be motivational, compelling, and very comical. He integrated every detail of the evening's theme into his presentation and incorporated just the right amount of audience participation.

I urge both corporate and private event coordinators to call upon the talent of Bill Stainton to deliver a professional, refreshing, engaging, and quick-witted performance to their next event. I trust you will find him as exceptional an entertainer as we have.

Sincerely,

Dan Packer

Dear Bill:

It was truly a pleasure and an enjoyment for the members of SMACNA-Western Washington to have you as our presenter at our membership meeting held at the Seattle Marriott SeaTac Hotel.

The time and energy you put into making a presentation personal to the organization is something I haven't seen in twenty years in this business. The sheet metal and HVAC industry is not so easy to understand unless you're a part of it; but you did the research and pinpointed your delivery directly to our association members. That's not an easy accomplishment; however, you made the contacts, did the research and therefore offered a program applicable to our association and membership. Needless to say it was very successful and funny!

Originally, we were just looking for a light-hearted program – less technical and serious than most. Your research prior to the program placed your "comedy" on a much more personal basis which was greatly appreciated by our members. It was time for all to get their minds off the economy and business issues, and you provided it. We thank you.

Sincerely,

Dear Bill,

On behalf of the Gig Harbor Peninsula Area Chamber of Commerce, it is my pleasure to write this letter of recommendation and thanks for your dynamic presentation at our quarterly Membership Breakfast in February.

Your presentation on "The 5 Best Decisions the Beatles Ever Made" drew record attendance and unanimous praise. Our members loved your stage presence and your interactive style, and were impressed with your use of humor to get your message across. Your material was timely and relevant to our business interests and concerns, and your quick and authentic responses to audience questions and challenges encouraged our participation, held our attention, and made it fun. We continue to receive positive comments about you.

From a coordinator's standpoint, you were a dream to work with. Your attention to detail and set-up was key to the success of the meeting. When in spite of this preparedness you encountered an audio problem onstage, your quick wit turned what could have been an awkward moment into an opportunity for laughter and camaraderie.

Bill, hiring you to speak to our membership was absolutely the "right" choice. We will enthusiastically recommend you to others for your timely and relevant message, your polished delivery and your consummate professionalism. Thank you for making our Membership Breakfast the memorable and inspiring event that we hoped it would be.

We wish you every success in the future.

With warm regards,

Melinda Bouillon

Dear Bill,

We want to thank you for helping to make our annual Blue Chip Circle Member Fly-In a great success! This is truly our most important event of the year and we were thrilled to feature you. You closed our event in style, leaving lasting impressions for all of us in attendance.

We recently received our attendee survey results from Savannah and would like to share them with you. Here are some of the things that our members had to say:

"Bill Stainton was one of the best motivational speakers I have ever seen."

"Bill Stainton was excellent and very helpful."

Additionally your presentation was the highest rated general session of the Fly-In, consistently scoring between "Very Good" and "Excellent." In front of a group who can sometimes be hard to please, you excelled. It's a true testament to you, the Return, and the lasting legacy of the Beatles.

On behalf of the Blue Chip Circle, we want to thank you for sharing your incredible talent to entertain and motivate our members. Your message and delivery are second to none. We saw nothing but smiles on the faces of those in attendance and your presentation is still being discussed to this day. Please feel free to use this letter as a reference for future speaking engagements. You rock!

We wish you the best of luck in the future.

Sincerely,

Kate Curley

Dear Bill,

How smart of us to chose you as this year's Opening Keynote Speaker. Your presentation was well received by our members and scored high on our Conference Evaluation Forms.

You did a great job of blending the anxieties of our industry with a touch of humor and you could have only have achieved this by doing your "homework". When we first spoke, I mentioned and you agreed, that the background information you planned to develop would make a difference in the presentation, and it did.

The audience was very comfortable that you genuinely had a true understanding of each issue they were facing in the retail world today and you did this by taking their stories and weaving them seamlessly into your presentation. We even used your PFA Beatles Group photo in our March/April newsletter.

Now I sound just like a "groupie" and I guess I am. So please free to use this letter in anyway you wish. We think you are great!

Dear Bill:

In 2008 you presented your keynote program The 5 Best Decisions the Beatles Ever Made...and Why You Should Make Them Too! at our All Staff Meeting. Our attendees thought it was a fantastic program and that you were a great speaker. The comments I received that year included:

- Best/funniest/most relevant speaker you have ever had.
- Bill was the best speaker. I learned without really knowing it. I laughed harder than ever. Bring him back! I'm sure there's more!

I am delighted we were able to bring you back this year. Your keynote It's Showtime! How to Produce Award-Winning Results in Business and in Life did not disappoint. You had the audience thinking and kept them laughing. It's no surprise that this year's comments are nearly identical to those we received in 2008:

- Bill Stainton was hilarious and I loved his presentation.
- Bill Stainton was funny, informative, and offered some solid takeaway tips.
- That was by far the best All Staff I have ever been to! Bill Stainton was hilarious and had a great message! You couldn't have picked a better speaker.

As I mentioned to you at the meeting, you are also the easiest speaker to work with that I've experienced in my 13 years of being a meeting planner. Both times I've hired you, you arrived early, did your sound check . . . and then helped us lug boxes around, set up centerpieces, distribute flyers, and then ask what else you could do to help. For a guy who's won 29 Emmy Awards, there is nothing prima donna-ish about you!

Given my experience—and the way the attendees keep talking about you long after your presentations are over—I wouldn't hesitate to recommend you as a speaker to any group.

Thank you for a wonderful presentation, and for the extra work you do to understand your audience and work "inside jokes" into your presentation. I couldn't ask for anything more.

Sincerely,
