

And MORE.....

I am looking forward to creating a memorable event for your guests. My specific niches are food, health, and sales. If you have not found the seminar or event for your audience in the enclosed one-pages perhaps one of my other areas of expertise would meet your needs.

I customize every presentation to meet the needs of each audience's unique circumstances. The following subjects are also areas in which I have specific interest, knowledge, or experiences to share with your group.

I am looking forward to collaborating with you in the creation of an awesome event.

Thank you, Deb

- Environmental Awareness: I am a global warming ambassador for the National Wildlife Federation. My home's back yard is certified by the NWF as a Back Yard Habitat. As a PROP certified member of the Springettsbury Township recycling committee, I am the only member with the official Professional Recyclers Of Pennsylvania certification.
- Diversity Education: My children's book, My Two Aunt's teaches preschool age children lifestyle acceptance.
- Cooking Classes: I know more about food than anyone you have ever met. Anything from Titanic Dinners, theme menus, cooking for the handicap, vegetarian or organic cooking and everything in between can be on the menu at your event.
- Recovery/12 Step Education: Overcoming my personal struggles in this arena certainly has made me an expert on the topic.
- School Assemblies: My passion is to make a difference in how children live for future generations. Any of the above listed topics are appropriate for customized school programs.
- Restaurant/Catering/Hospitality Industry Expert: Thirty years of experience in this field certainly makes me the leading expert! I am Knowledgeable in every facet of the field.
