

What an inspiration!!

Warren's positive messages were well received by our group as his story engaged all of us. As Occupational Health Nurses we are often dealing with workers who face life altering events. Warren illustrated that everyone has the potential to overcome barriers and achieve amazing results. His presentation gave us hope. We realize how our workers could have the ability to change their perceptions and overcome the challenges that they may face in their lives.

I was very impressed with Warren's attention to detail and his sincerity in his getting to know our audience. Warren accomplished this not only through the pre conference telephone call but also in attending the welcome reception the night before. Many conference speakers simply attend their session without doing the research that Warren did.

We enjoyed the way Warren engaged us with such an emotionally raw story delivered with absolute authenticity, which created the kind of "wow factor" every conference planner dreams of. Feedback received from our members indicated that everyone thoroughly enjoyed his presentation.

Thank you so much !

Terry MacDonald